

'Architecture' & Open House Workshop

To coincide with London Open House, m² gallery presents 'Architecture', an exhibition by three members of Nth Art - Lorin Davies, Lee Campbell and Chris Knight..

Whereas Quay 2c have incorporated beach huts into the structure of their live/work space, the artists have each built an architectural model that reflects the concerns of their individual practices and takes the beach hut to a highly subjective extreme. Upon meeting at Quay House, Nth Art disassembled their structures, and reconstructed them as an amalgamated multi-layered edifice.

Images of the original structures will be displayed during Open House, at the private view, and archived on www.nth-art.org

In addition to this Nth Art will be in residence throughout the open day, working with visitors to develop proposals for the soon-to-be vacated office space of Quay House, the results of which will be likewise displayed and archived. Nth Art hope that by engaging the visitors through drawing, an increased understanding of the building and appreciation of architectural procedures will be reached.
